Welcome

to the inaugural issue of the New Zealand Hemp Industries Association (NZHIA) Industry Catalogue — a new resource showcasing the breadth and capability of Aotearoa's iHemp sector. This first edition marks the beginning of an annual publication that will be refreshed for Summer 2026 and updated each year to reflect our growing and evolving industry.

The NZHIA facilitates the exchange of information between the iHemp industry and key stakeholders across government, industry, and the R&D community. Our members span the full value chain — from seed growers and processors to suppliers and retailers — working together to bring quality hemp products from seed to shelf in Aotearoa and beyond.

As a non-profit organisation run entirely by dedicated volunteers who generously contribute their time and expertise, the NZHIA exists to support and grow this emerging industry. We invite you to support the sector by joining the Association — every membership directly helps us continue the lobbying, marketing, and education vital to advancing iHemp in New Zealand.

Committee Updates

Executive Committee

This is the inaugural version of the NZHIA catalogue. Celebrating the Aotearoa/NZ industrial hemp (iHemp) industry, it will be further updated in Summer 2026.

A big thank to you for your interest in the people, products and places involved with iHemp. It is a very exciting time, and we need you to get behind the iHemp industry. Hence the need for a catalogue to help you find iHemp products and highlight what is happening locally. Supporting the companies and people in this catalogue is a great way to promote the industry and we encourage you to share this resource widely with your networks.

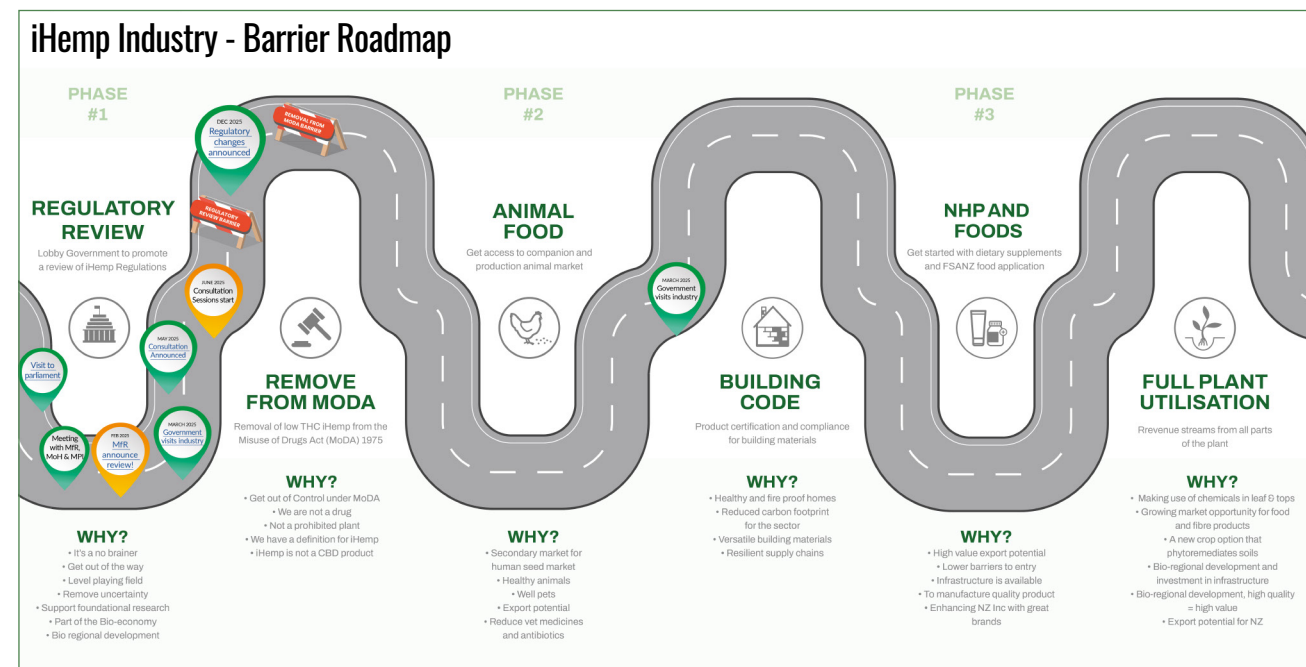

December 2025 has been a busy month for the NZHIA, we launched our “carry the cause”, tote bag campaign to raise interest and encourage the Hemp Army to get involved.

The Hemp Army are people who know about iHemp/Cannabis. We trust they will get involved and ask how hemp can fit into their industries. This demand pull will help the supply push to create the value chain which starts in the regions. The roadmap below shows the process and barriers we face.

Following this launch the big news happened when the Ministry for Regulations announced a change to the regulations which will have an incredible effect on the supply chain. We now launch the inaugural annual iHemp catalogue, what a year and plenty to do in 2026.

We wish you all well and look forward to keeping you informed.

All the best, NZHIA Executive 2025

Government Committee

On the 11 December 2025, Hon David Seymour Minister of Regulation and Associate Minister of Health announced that you will no longer need a licence to grow and handle industrial hemp for food, oil, fibre and health products. The THC limit will raise to 1% and iHemp can be used as starter material for Medicinal Cannabis. Growers will simply have to register with the Police and MPI. The Animal food issue was ruled out of scope of the MFR review, and we continue to work on the 5 objectives in the 2023 Coalitions Strategic Proposals. We are one step closer to our #1 objective to get out of Moda, and continue to promote the carbon benefits of hemp/biochar. And we look forward to freeing up CBD to be available in food, natural health products and nutraceuticals.

The MfR announcement is a milestone and great news for the supply chain, and it is now the challenge of industry to create the value chain. Lots to do but the playing field is becoming more level. Wishing you a safe summer season and a productive 2026.

Media Committee

What a way to kick off the summer season, with a truly historic milestone for New Zealand's hemp industry.

As we look ahead to next year, our focus is clear: bringing hemp into the home of every New Zealander. Enter the hemp bag. It may not yet be 100% hemp, but with dedication and hard graft, it soon will be. In many ways, it perfectly reflects where our industry stands today – not quite where we want to be, but moving steadily closer. As the laws continue to loosen, so too does our ability to innovate, to enterprise, and to unlock the true value of this remarkable plant.

We will keep pushing deregulation forward so that, in the near future, our animals are fed hemp with abandon, our homes are built from it, and our communities grow and thrive around it.

If you haven't seen our latest campaign, please swing by our online shop and pick up a hemp tote bag. A thoughtful gift of hope and progress, supporting a more sustainable future for Aotearoa, New Zealand.

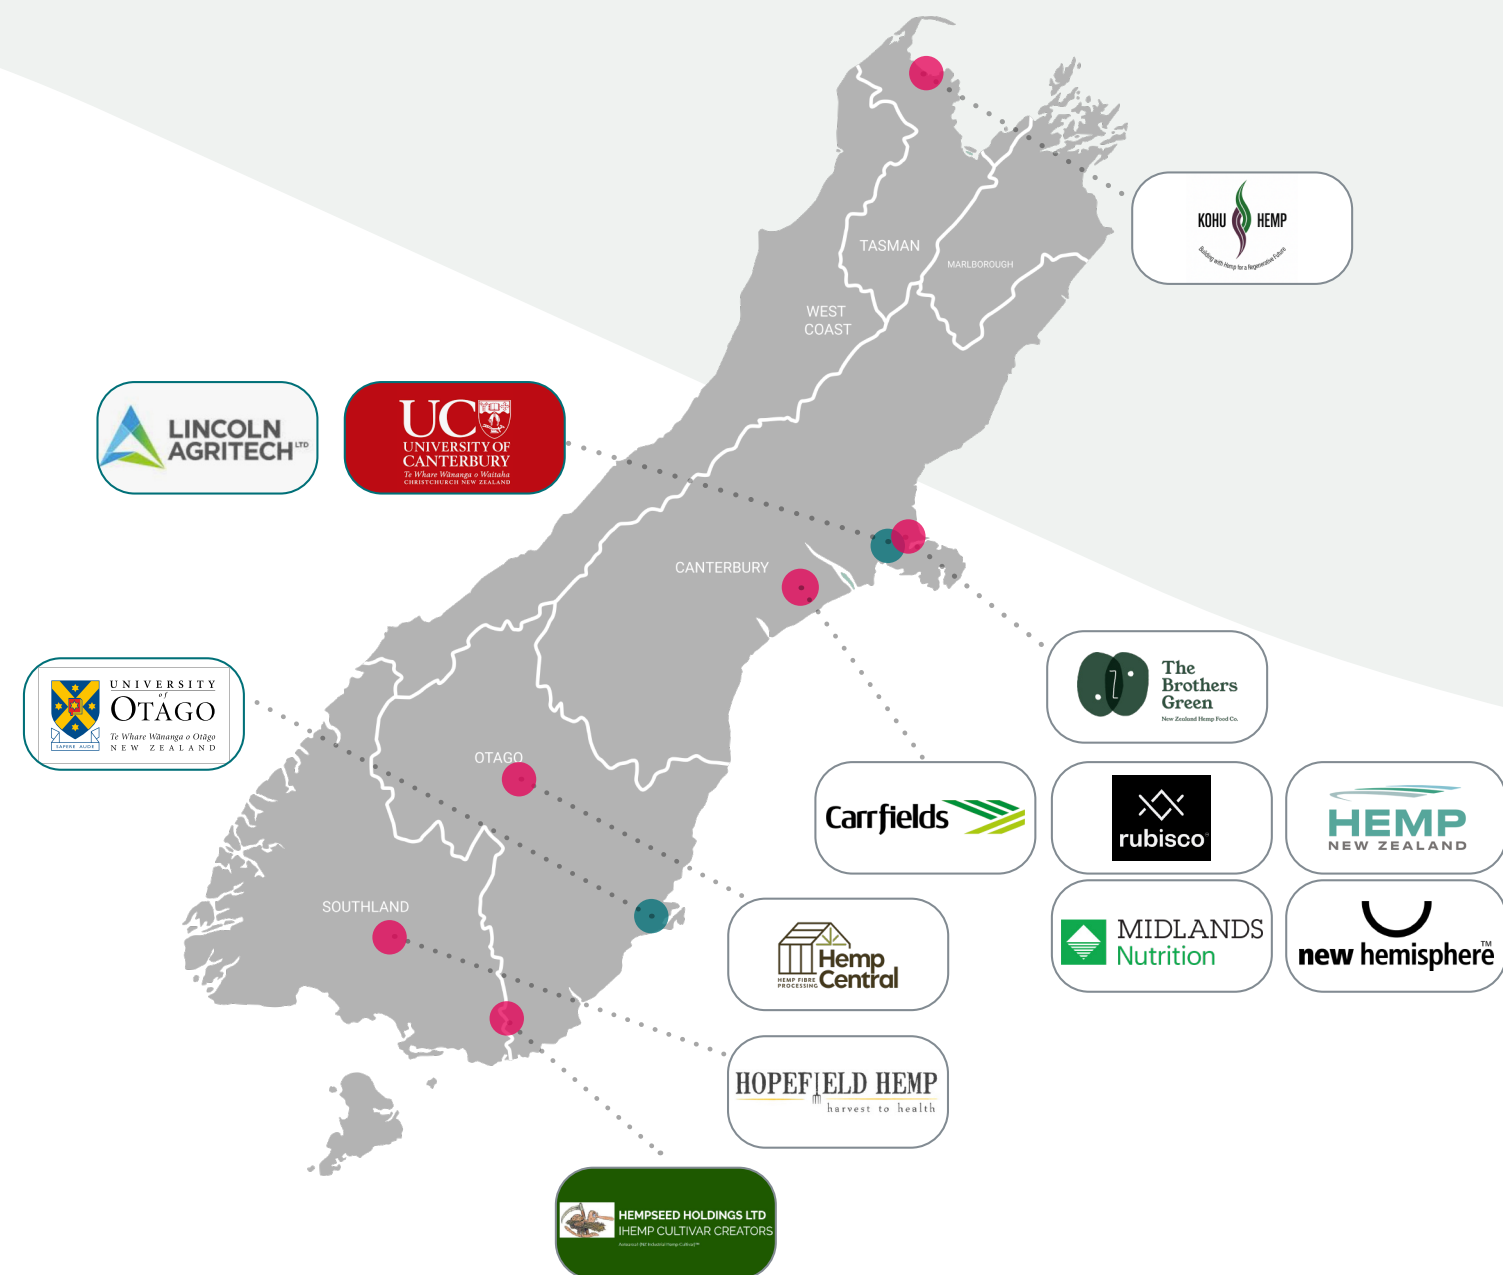

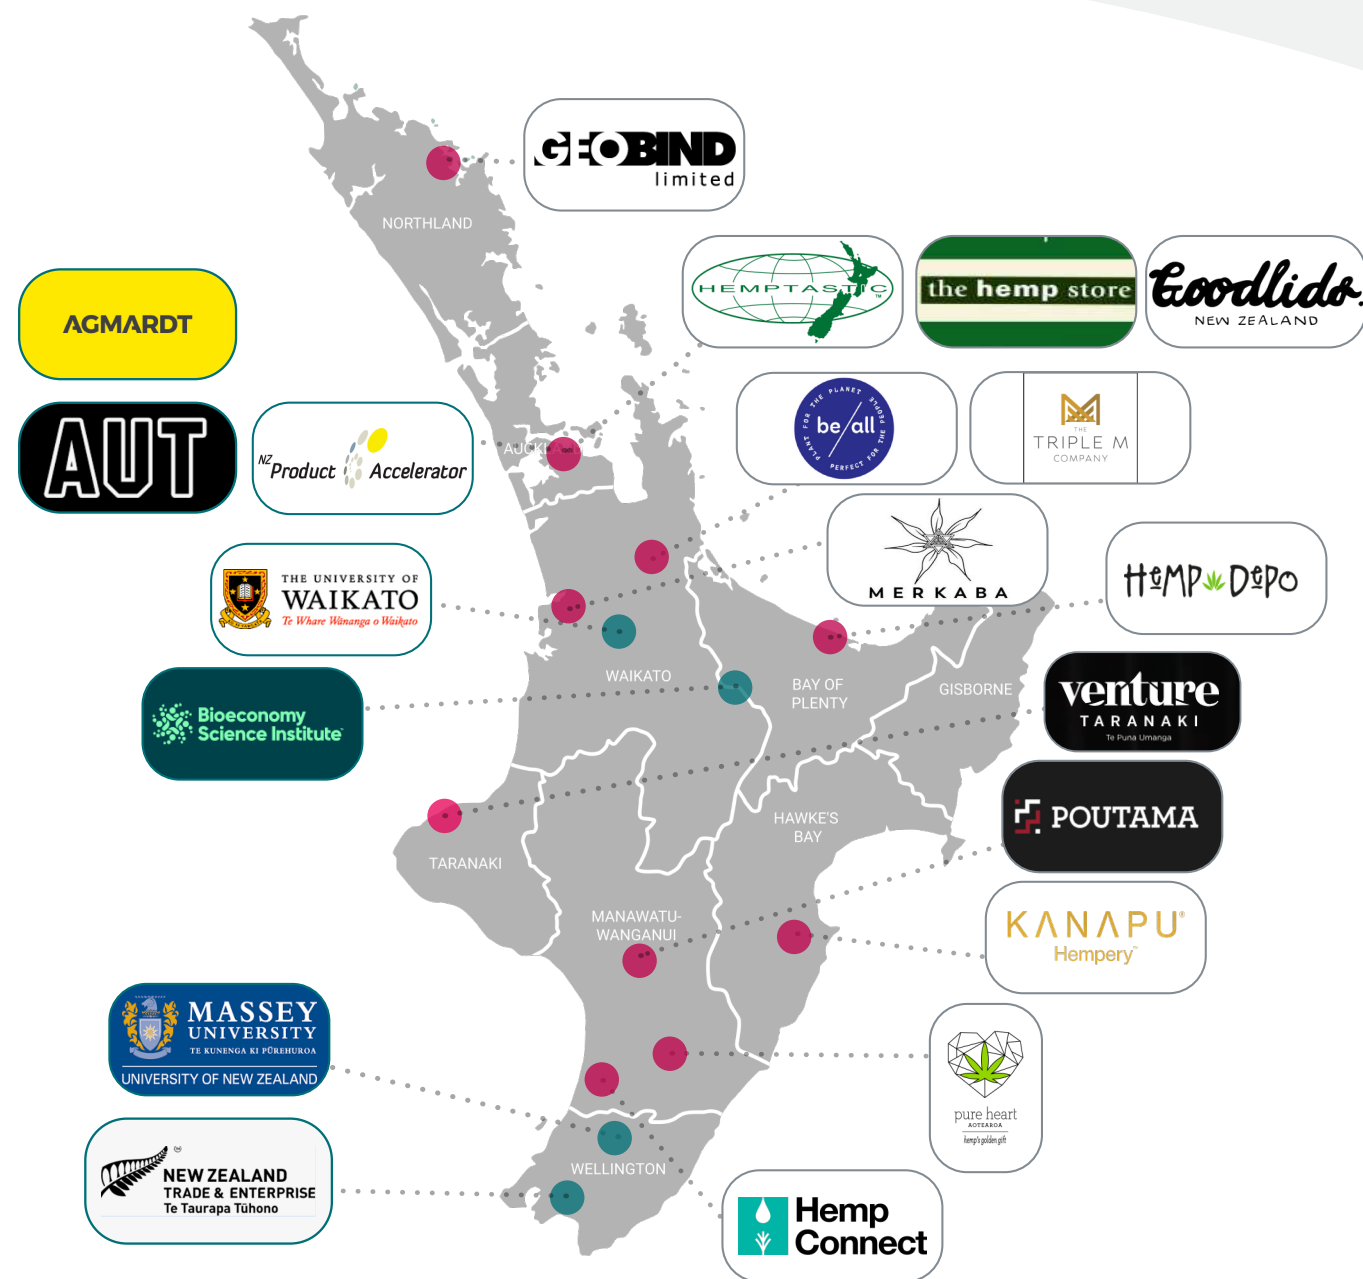

All the very best to you and yours – warm wishes and compliments of the season to you all.

Kelly Muirden Cooney - Media Committee Chair

HEMPSEED HOLDINGS LIMITED

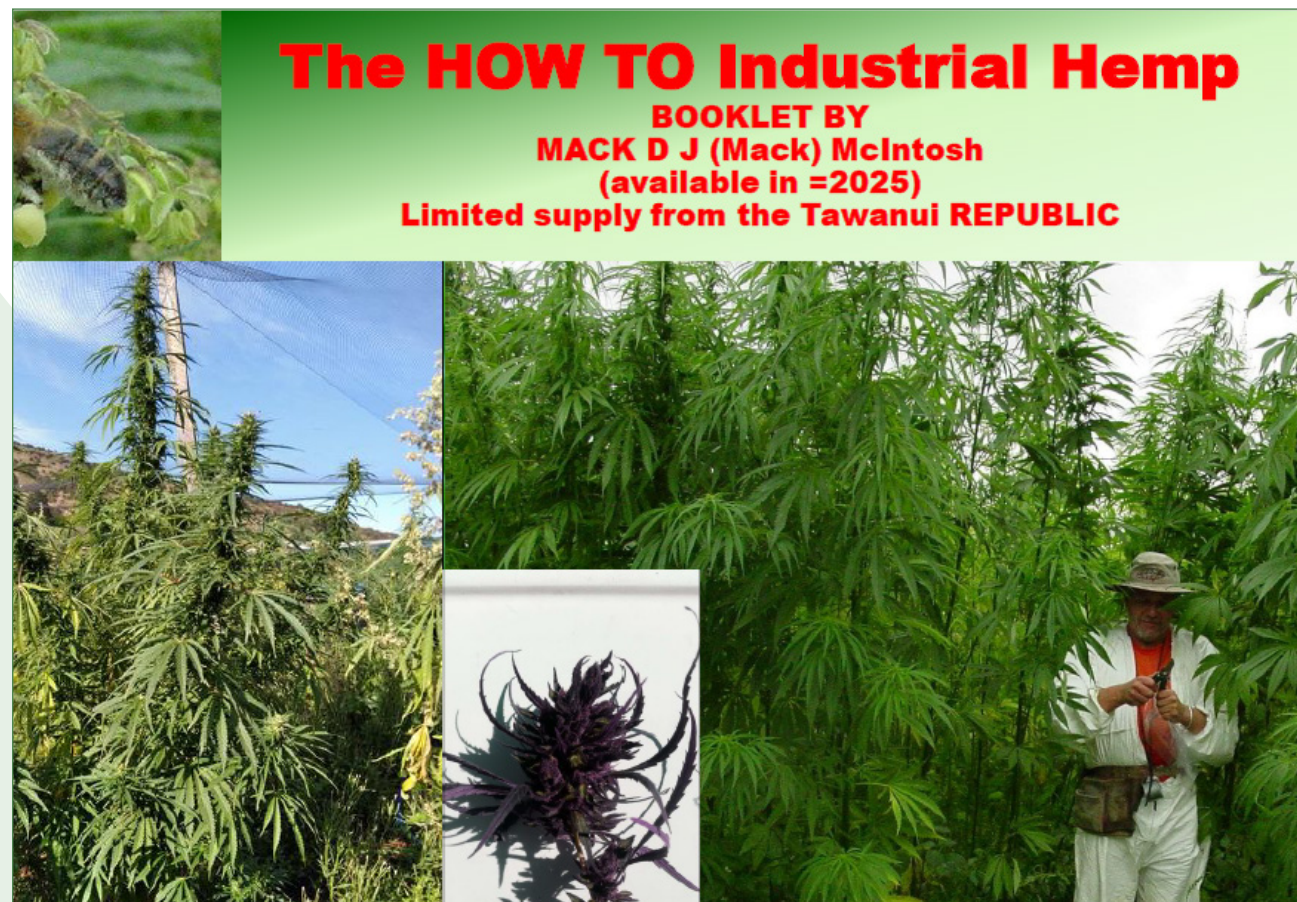

Aotearoa1™ via HEMPSEED HOLDINGS Ltd is New Zealand's first locally developed industrial hemp cultivar. Led by industrial hemp pioneer Donald "Mack" McIntosh, the company began cultivar trials between 2001 and 2003, quickly recognising that many imported varieties were poorly suited to local conditions. This sparked a long-term commitment to developing better-performing genetics for Aotearoa. Aotearoa1 was first approved in 2008, followed by A1 Monopurp, A1 Comseed, A1 MACMono in 2020, and A1 HCFX in 2021. Mack's vision is that these cultivars will form the backbone of a strong, enduring Kiwi hemp industry. Drawing on decades of experience, Mack has also produced a practical "How To" booklet for growers, illustrated with images from the Hemp Seed Holdings archive.

Hemp Building Association

Hempcrete is a bio-composite construction material used for walling. It can be hand-placed, sprayed, and made into panels and blocks.

Hempcrete is made from hurds, a lime or magnesium binder, and water.

Every hempcrete building is a carbon sink.

With its high insulation R-value and its strong thermal mass performance the heating and cooling of a hempcrete-built building is minimal.

Hempcrete has a natural capacity to self-regulate moisture: Hempcrete walls are literally breathing.

Aotearoa Hemp Alliance

The Aotearoa Hemp Alliance (AHA) was established in 2021 to enable and facilitate commercial pathways to market for low THC Hemp derived products in New Zealand and abroad, by engagement with parallel industry partners, regulatory bodies and government, that will support the successful development of a regional Industrial Hemp (iHemp) industry in New Zealand.

The founding members of the alliance are three vertically integrated iHemp companies located in three diverse regions of NZ - Midlands (Canterbury), KANAPU Hemp Foods (Hawke's Bay) and Hemp Connect (Horowhenua).

The ambition of the alliance is to achieve changes to current NZ legislation for iHemp and Cannabidiol (CBD) that will open-up new and existing opportunities for growth, enabling better farm-gate returns and an economically sustainable industry for the regions.

New Zealand Hemp Collective

The Aotearoa NZ Hemp Collective was founded by Donald "Mack" McIntosh to amplify the voices of small growers, innovators, and cottage-scale operators within New Zealand's industrial hemp sector. After retiring from the NZ Hemp Industries Association, Mack recognised the need for an inclusive platform that represents the full breadth of the industry, including iwi and hapū.

The Collective addresses shared challenges, exchanges practical knowledge, and collaborates to advance industrial hemp in Aotearoa. Aligned with Mack's cultivar development through HempSeed Holdings Ltd, the Collective supports resilient, locally adapted solutions for a sustainable, uniquely Kiwi hemp industry for generations to come.
